A Birds Eye View

By RUSTICANA

Now that the stocks are gradually becoming metamorphosed into straw stacks we may expect many Knights of the white Collar to become alive to the fact, that the farmers' greatest need is a player piano—a car—a complete set of Somebody or others' famous works—a gramophone or a suite of furniture. Kind ladies if the pencil pushing variety who stay in the city and write sympathetic but ignorant little articles on the woes of the average farmer's wife, will also soon be instructing those farmer husbands to get "Her" that washing machine, that running water system that new house, etc which she has been needing so long. But sometimes when we read some of those well meant but ignorant-of-the-real-facts articles by city folks, or listen to them trying to tell us the things we really need, (the same being generally things we can run along without) we are tempted to wonder what would become of the cause of production, and incidentally our creditors, if we started living up to the home, and lightening the house work with musical instruments, and Hoover vacuum cleaners etc., instead of clearing off our obligations. Luckily however the real farmer has a strong regard for putting first things first despite the lashings of good advice with which he is deluged. We believe in brightening up the home just as much as the penpushers do, but we also believe that the fellow who does it at the expense of another fellow is a half brother to a robber.

We notice the Leader of the Opposition is coming West to make a few speeches, and doubtless many promises. That will surely give some of our city newspapers something else to fill up the front line space just now occupied in giving latest symptoms of a person who fancies himself a martyr when his greatest trouble is that he has been born with a strong social tendency. In any case whether he lives or dies as the result of his folly is no concern of Canada's. Surely we've got troubles enough of our own to get all worked up about. The fellow who said "Many people who claim they want justice are lucky if they don't get it", said "something" alright.

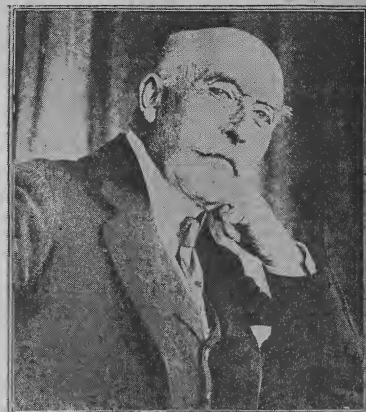

If the Board of Commissioners now listening to the views of the manufacturers and others on the subject of the tariff have any sense of humour they must be having lots of "smiles" these days. For instance here is President Findlay of the plutocratic

Massey-Harris Co. getting up and solemnly assuring them that "Really free trade y' know would be better for OUR business, but for the economic good of Canada the tariff ought to be retained, yea heightened! If the Tariff Commissioner didn't find that funny, you can bet the farmers do!

"How does he expect that a person of ordinary—just ordinary intelligence is going to believe such balderdash?" We remarked to an Easterner who was sojourning with us.

"They fall for it in Toronto, just the same," said the Easterner. "Fellows make speeches like that all the time and nobody ever cracks a smile, or utters a sceptical 'Hear Hear' unless maybe a U.F.A., thinks out loud by mistake."

"But they know how to manage ashamed of himself. The band starts playing patriotic airs, Sir George Foster is always around in case of emergency with a silver streamer of patriotic flim-flam on top, somebody else waves a flag, and everybody gets in a fine glow of cheap patriotism. It costs them nothing, and they think they're helping to 'shoo' away the boogie or annexation." "But," said we, "the price of farm implements has no need to rouse either gurgles of patriotism or fears of annexation. The only annexation it concerns is the extra annexation of the farmer's profits by customs tariff." "Sure I know that, and so do our U.F.O. fellows but there's none so blind as those whose pocket books are in danger," said our friend meaningly. "The only thing that will convince some of our Eastern Nabobs of the error of their theories, would be if them to become farmers, but you may have noticed that that is the one game they have no desire to take a hand in. The winnings are too paltry."

BEAUTIFUL COSTUME WORN AT FAREWELL DINNER TO PRINCE CAROL, TO BE SOLD TO AID RUMANIAN RELIEF

This beautiful national costume, which was once the property of the Princess Cuxa, of Rumania, is to be sold in aid of the Rumanian Relief Committee. The gown is the property of Mrs. M. Clarke, noted as a social worker in New York. Twenty-eight years ago the gown was presented to Mrs. Clarke by the Mother Superior of a Rumanian convent, whom Mrs. Clarke had saved from an injury. It was brought to this country by Mrs. Clarke and remained in storage until recently when it was worn by Miss M. Clarke, Secretary to the Rumanian Consulate in New York, at the farewell dinner given to Crown Prince Carol of Rumania at the Hotel Astor. Mrs. Clarke is shown wearing the beautiful costume which is probably the finest of its kind in this country.

Ribstone Notes

The Ribstone Fall Fair proved a good success in spite of the cold day. We are glad to be able to report that Mr. James Williams is up and around again. Mr. A. Williams returned from Winnipeg on Friday. He took a carload of cattle there last week. Mr. Hawkins was the first man to bring a load of wheat to Ribstone this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. John Huker and son are visiting at Mr. Alex Cliffords. We are sorry to report that Mr. Victor Ribstone is ill.

Mr. A. Peterson returned from Edmonton on Thursday and reports that Mrs. Peterson is not very well. We are very glad to see Mrs. L. L. Pound back again and hope that her health will continue to improve.

Miss A. E. Cooke is again visiting Ribstone. The Ribstone Oriole girls expect to serve a lunch next Saturday. We notice that noly car has left town and a new one has taken its place. Miss Laura Elson was on town Saturday evening.

Among the visitors in town last Saturday we noticed Mrs. Roy, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Saul. We noticed a long of grain stuck on the way to town the other day. Was it owing to the heavy load or the heavy roads? The Messrs Tressa Dallyn and Esan Morrison are working in John Dallyn cook car. Considerable business in grain and lumber is being done these days.

3D FARM BUILDINGS PAY

Whether you are going to build a house, barn, or just a little chicken coop, it pays to build well. Good buildings not only last longer, but add to your profits and increase the market value of your farm. Take the matter of the poultry house. Hens will lay more eggs in warm sunny houses than in cold, drafty, dark sheds. So whether you have only a few hens or a hundred it pays to have a good hen house. Our 'Build by Plan' method saves time and money. Come in and let us tell you about it.

PRICES TOBACOGANNING

As high as seven dollars per day is being paid this season for threshing crews. With wages two or three times what they formerly were and men doing half or one-third as much work in a day as they used to. A good many people are being to wonder where the whole thing will end and minimum is reached as regards the amount of work done in a day and the absolute maximum of wages is attained. We do not know the answer. Just now we are all more or less money mad, the humble farm hand included. Signs are not wanting that the peak in high wages and in high prices has about been reached. What will happen when we start down the other side is problematical.

About all any of us can do is wait and see. According to many experts called "business statisticians" we will not have much longer to wait to see what we shall see. These experts have been giving out gloomy forecasts for some considerable time. The average data they seem to agree on at the beginning of the end of this high prices era, is the spring of next year. By that time, they aver, prices will be tobogganing.

Miss Laura Brownell, after breaking an air record by looping the loop 87 times, took out her powder puff and nonchalantly powdered her nose. The establishing of this record marked the dedication of the Curtis Aerodrome formerly known as Hasehulst Field and used by the United States army fliers during the war. Miss Brownell went up more than 10,000 feet before she started on her record breaking descent. She was aloft an hour and fifteen minutes, and was alone in her machine. She received her pilots license a year ago. She is twenty three years old.

And after we have all got set and everybody willing for a reduction in the price of living—gradual, but certain—also comes the increase in the freight rates and kicks over all our money to the wind.

Two women may love a man without causing much excitement. But when a man loves two women there is bound to be scandal in the paper.

If the passenger rates keep going up and gasoline keeps on its lofty way, the wise man will be looking around for the ancient ox-cart.

There are few exemptions to the increase in the freight rates and the consumer, the patient, long-suffering, meek and lowly consumer has to bear all the increased cost.

LOSS TO THE FARMERS

H. W. Woods, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, is authority for the statement that the farmers in Western Canada are losing more by the abolition of the Canada Wheat Board than enough to make up for the added freights caused by the increase in the railway rates. He proceeds to estimate the loss to the western farmers by the increase in freight rates at something like $40,000,000 annually, which is an enormous amount of money.

The saving by the Canada Wheat Board would more than up for this vast amount, which, has to come out of the westerly farmer.

This estimate is made up by a man who knows a thing or two of the wheat board because he was a member of that body. He is a practical farmer. His statement is an astonishing one. In simpler form it means that the farmers of Western Canada are losing more than $40,000,000 because the government is unwise enough, for no very good reason to abandon the wheat board.

This is a serious condition of affairs and one which should receive the utmost consideration by the parties interested.

FARMERS LOSE MILLIONS

BY THE INCREASED RATES

If the wheat harvest had been continued for another year the whole of the increased burden of freight rates on wheat from the western provinces to Fort William would have been more than offset by the saving effected by the economical marketing of the wheat harvest. Such was the opinion expressed by H.W. Wood, president of the U.F.A.

President Wood's estimate is based upon the official estimate published by the bureau of statistics at Ottawa of a total wheat yield of 258,000,000 bushels in the three prairie provinces. The average increase in the cost of the haul from the western provinces to Fort William is about 5 1/2 cents.

President Wood estimated the loss on wheat owing to the higher freight rate at more than $14,000,000 for the haul from the prairie provinces to Fort William alone.

"The increased costs to the farmers, directly due to the higher freight rates on all grains and livestock, will be directly not less than from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000" he estimated "while indirectly the farmers will be as greatly affected as much as any other class of consumers"

"It seems too bad that the present government was not sufficiently interested in agriculture to respond to the request of the wheat growers of Western Canada by continuing the Wheat Board for another year as the saving which could have been effected by the economical marketing of wheat would without doubt have been enough more than to carry the additional burden of the freight rates on wheat"

On the cost of hauling oats Mr Wood estimates the added burden at about $6,000,000 and the added burden on barley and rye at about $4,000,000 making a total of upwards of $24,000,000 on grain alone.

These estimates are decided conservative, but Mr Wood makes allowance for the fact that a considerable proportion of harvest of coarse grains is not shipped to Fort William, but is retained as feed in the west. If the whole of the oat crop were shipped to Fort William the burden of the increased freight rates would be in the neighbourhood of $11,000,000 taking the official estimate of $56,000,000 bushels as the total yield, and the average freight rate at 3 cents a bushel.

"There may be some question as to how much justification there was for the increase" said he "but there can be no question at all about the tremendously heavy burden which it has imposed upon the people, and especially upon agriculture. At present prices grain, especially wheat, may not feel the burden very acutely just now but the prices of all livestock are sagging towards a pre-war basis, and undoubtedly this additional burden will have a very discouraging effect on the livestock industry."

PRICE DISCRIMINATION

Owing, it is stated, to the lack of cars on the Canadian National railways, a price of five or six cents a bushel less is paid for wheat bought at country points along the National railways in Alberta than for wheat purchased at points along the other railways. Other grains are also bought at a similar discount.

This circumstance has caused some thing in the nature of a panic among Winnipeg grain men, who fear that the government will close the market and introduce control again in the interests of the government railways.

The circumstances have also become the occasion of a lively controversy between the members of the Winnipeg and Calgary grain exchanges. The Winnipeg members charged that the difference in price constitutes price discrimination against grain grown along the National lines. The Calgary grain exchange in reply pointed out that Winnipeg brokers along the C.N.R. lines would not purchase the grain at any price unless cars were available at that time for immediate shipment.

This buying of wheat at a discount along the C.N.R. lines is nothing new. A similar condition has prevailed for years and only ceased when the markets were closed. Two-thirds of the elevator along the C.N.R. lines are owned by firms whose head offices are in Winnipeg and these firms are no doubt buying at a discount owing to conditions along the C.N.R. At the present time wheat along the National railways is bought on a November basis, and wheat on the other lines for October delivery. This is the circumstance which accounted for the difference in price.

In the vestry after the marriage service, a North London clergyman reproved the bridegroom for his burst of laughter in church when the words of the service "With my worldly goods I thee endow" were reached.

The bridegroom replied: "Why bless you, I've only got this suit of clothes to endow her with! If I give them to her I'll have none for myself, and she can't wear them, anyhow."

Thanksgiving day has once more been fixed for a Monday, which after all is the best day for any sort of a holiday. It prolongs the week end and makes the holiday worth while. All holidays should be fixed for Mondays.

A married man has a wife to scare him and 'make him 'keep straight. But a single man has to rely upon his conscience.

Thirty years ago the women wore skirts with trails that gathered up all the germs on the street. But now-a-days a germ has to climb so high to reach the hem of the skirt that he gets dizzy and falls and breaks his neck. Maybe this is why women are healthier than they used to be.

We do not know much, but we know men well enough to state that there's no such animal as a 'woman-hater'
